TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1

Television Criticism and the Problem of Ground

- Justification: Paradigmatic Mutation .......................................................... 1
- Divergent Interpretations of Ground ............................................................ 4
- The Ideological Divergence ............................................................................. 5
- The Philosophical Divergence ......................................................................... 6
  - The Kantian Turn .......................................................................................... 7
  - The Crisis in the Galilean World .................................................................. 11
  - Hume Vindicated ......................................................................................... 15
  - The Changing Critical Sense ....................................................................... 16
  - Goals ............................................................................................................ 20
  - Outline of Approach ................................................................................... 26
  - An Irrefutable Tension .................................................................................. 30

CHAPTER 2

The Conflict of Ground and the Hope of a Science of Signs

- Positioning Semiology and Semiotics in Tradition ........................................ 31
- Contingent and Nomothetic Force .................................................................. 32
- Communication Studies and the Drive for Nomothetic Force ....................... 34
  - The History of the Idea of Structure ......................................................... 35
  - Linguistics .................................................................................................. 35
- Logic or Rhetoric ............................................................................................ 36
  - Of Grammar, Logic, and Rhetoric ............................................................. 37
- Semiotics and Semiology ................................................................................ 40
- Ferdinand de Saussure .................................................................................... 41
- The Reluctant Revolutionary ......................................................................... 42
  - The Break with Classical Philology and the Neo-Grammarians ................. 43
  - Diachronics and Synchronics ..................................................................... 44
The "Cartesian Anxiety".................................64

Signs and the Limitation of the "Universal" Principle of Binary Opposition: The Aristotelian Lesson of Binary Distinction.........64

Binary Opposition (Contrariety) versus Binary Distinction (Contradiction).................................65
Dialectics and Synthetics........................................69
The Closure of Language...........................................71

De Saussure's Sign..................................................73
Charles Sanders Peirce.............................................76

Summary Conclusion..................................................83

CHAPTER 3

The Legacy of de Saussure: Levi-Strauss and Barthes

Paul Ricoeur's Designation........................................87

Unconscious Structures: Dehumanized Social Studies.................................88

Levi-Strauss and the Underlying Unconscious Coherence.................................89

Levi-Strauss' Point-of-View........................................92

Three Characteristics of Straussian Structuralism........................................93

Levi-Strauss' Universal Structuralism........................................98

Seung and Two Kinds of Systems of Signification........................................98

Levi-Strauss and Barthes as Reductionists: The Formalist Legacy and the Move from Linguistic to "Psychological" or Universal Mental Structures101

The Overextension of the Linguistic Paradigm........................................102

Straussian Innatism and Historicism........................................103

Barthes' Universal Semantization........................................104

A False Start for a Science of Signs........................................108

Levi-Strauss' Definition(s) of "Structure"........................................109

Problems of Interpretation........................................110

Levi-Strauss' and Freud's "Scientific" Analyses of the Oedipus Myth.111
The Endless Malleability of Levi-Strauss' and Freud's Associative Methods........................................113

Straussian Laws of Inversion: The "Conventionalist Twist"..........................114
Jakobson as an Example of Artful Reductionism: Trivial Associations...115

The Semantic effects of Syntactic Structures: Riffaterre, Culler, and Levin.........................................................118
Audience Expectation and Meaning........................................119

Summary Conclusion................................................................120

CHAPTER 4

The Temporal Dimension of Interpretation:
Genetic Freedom versus Structural Determinism

Structural Ontology and Time: Determinism..........................125

Techné versus Theoria: The Constriction of Significance.............127
Herbert Marcuse and "Quantitative Quality"...............................127
The Technologization of Language: Jurgen Habermas and G. B. Vico's
Responses...............................................................................128

Sartre's Point-of-View.............................................................130

"Projects of Freedom" versus Structure (alienation)....................130
Praxis and Individual Agents of Change.....................................131
Structure as Inevitable Alienation............................................132
Levi-Strauss' Structural Determinism.......................................133
The Importance of Making History Move, Ever Again, Toward
Emancipation........................................................................134
Freedom: The Engine of History (Dialectics)............................135

The Struggle for the Subject....................................................137

Unconscious Laws of Signification...........................................138

The Missing Consciousness: Self and Other..............................140

Levi-Strauss' Materialist Epistemology.....................................141
Structure as Construct............................................................142

Consciousness as Myth............................................................143

"Objectivity" and Geographical Distance..................................144
Anti-Humanism.......................................................................145

Foucault's Anti-Consciousness Stance: Extending Levi-Strauss Against
Sartre....................................................................................147

Communication without Subjects.............................................148
The "System-Behind-the System": Not Tradition.......................149
Sartre versus Foucault and Levi-Strauss...................................150
Merleau-Ponty's Structures within Time....................................152
Prejudice as Challengable "Structures"/Blinders ................................. 152
History as Myth: Levi-Strauss and History ........................................ 155
Aleatorial and Rational Histories ......................................................... 156
Coordiate/Subordinate Systems ............................................................ 157
Progressional/Nonprogressional History .............................................. 158

Foucault and History ............................................................................ 162
Foucault, Nietzsche, and Discontinuity ................................................. 162
History as a Literary Manifestation of Will to Power ......................... 163
The Structure of Knowledge/Power (Epistemes and Discourses) ........... 166
Method as Genealogy, and Archeology ............................................... 167
Foucault's Inadequate Explanation for Resistance to Structures --
Sartrean History as Revolution ......................................................... 169

Nietzsche Contra Foucault (Foucault's "Embarrassment") .................. 170
Reflexive and Nonreflexive Relativism -- two Types of Paradox .......... 172
Derrida's Acceptance of Paradox ......................................................... 174

Derrida and History ............................................................................. 175
History versus Essentialism as Polar "Grounds" ................................. 175

The General Text ................................................................................ 177
The Groundless General Text (le text general) .................................... 178

Summary Conclusion .......................................................................... 180

CHAPTER 5

The Problem of Reading/Viewing

From Text to Interpretation ............................................................... 185
The Reader as the "Space" Where Making Sense Happens ..................... 187
Constitutive Consciousness versus "Inscription" .................................. 188
The Failure of Barthes' "Four Readers" and Five Codes ......................... 189
Other Readers, Narrators, Narratees, and Audiences ......................... 191

The Active Reader in the "Gap" of Indeterminacy: Completing the Text .. 192

The Active Reader in the "Gap" of Indeterminacy -- William James, Roman
Ingarden, Wolfgang Iser, and Emberto Eco ....................................... 193
Reader as Producer (Completing the Text) ......................................... 194

Stanley Fish: The "Suppression" of Idiosyncrasies ................................ 196
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Topic</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Community Assumptions&quot;</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Johnathan Culler’s &quot;Competent Reader&quot;</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Christopher Norris’ Defense Against &quot;Conservative Kantian Structuralism&quot;</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The &quot;Trans-individual Community of Judgement&quot; -- Culler, Karl-Otto Apel, and Wittgenstein</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culler’s &quot;Interpretive Constructs&quot; as Interpretive Constraint</td>
<td>199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Husserl’s Parallism</td>
<td>199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Noema-Noesis</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culler’s Poetics — a &quot;Double a priori&quot;?</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apel’s Explanation</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apel’s Theory of Validity</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fish’s and Others’ Explanations</td>
<td>202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Reemergence of the Text and the Weakening of Fish’s Reader</td>
<td>203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuel Weber and Freud’s Theory of Witz (the Joke)</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Norman Holland’s Theory of the Reader’s &quot;Identity Theme&quot;</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>David Bleich’s &quot;Subjective Criticism&quot; and &quot;Automatic Objectification&quot;</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Problem of Prompted Response — Psychologizing Interpretation</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>John Reichert’s Response to Reader Response Theory</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fish’s Radical Monism</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iser’s Explanation</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iser’s &quot;Eminently Sensible&quot; Dualism</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fact versus Interpretation</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hirsch’s Explanation</td>
<td>210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E. D. Hirsch: &quot;Meaning&quot; and &quot;Significance&quot;</td>
<td>210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rorty’s Explanation</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas S. Kuhn: Discovery versus the Production of Facts</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richard Rorty: Absolutism as Explanatory Strategy</td>
<td>212</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Critical Shadow</td>
<td>213</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Geoffrey Hartman: Criticism on the Wild Side</td>
<td>213</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Criticism or/as Literature</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Rejection of the &quot;Arnoldian Concordat&quot;</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Yale School versus the New Critics</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Miller's Defense of the Critical Reader
The Geneva School and J. Hillis Miller
The Dissolution of the Demarcation Between Text and Interpretation
Paul de Man: Method as Transcendence of Text and Misreading
The Impossibility of Reading
Harold Bloom's Pessimism: All Reading is Misreading
Paul de Man: Blindness and Insight
Paradox and Unreadability
Socrates, Rhetoric, and Derrida
Jacques Derrida and J. L. Austin

Summary Conclusion

CHAPTER 6
Deconstruction: Grammatology versus Semiology

Booth versus "Methodical Craziness"
Jacques Derrida
"Humanistic" New Criticism versus "Scientific" Structuralism
The Post-Structuralistic Suspicion of Method (Structural)
The "Uncanny" versus "Happy Positivism"
Aporia -- Alogic
Pure Reason and Contingent Expression
The Rhetoric of hierarchization and Supplementation as attempted Mastery
Deconstruction as a Strategy of Reversal and Displacement
The Example of Nietzsche: Proto-Deconstruction
Using "Causation" Against Itself
Nonoriginal Origin
The Western Bias of Logocentrism — Phonocentrism

Logocentrism: Self-Sufficient Foundationalism
Phonocentrism: The Dominance of Speech Over Writing
The Western Metaphysics and Rhetoric of Presence
Derrida's Grammatology and Husserl's Category of Absence
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Autonomy of Signs</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E’criture as Global Text Including Writing and Speech</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E’criture, Barthes’ Global Semantization, and the Universality of Hermeneutics</td>
<td>246</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trace and Semiotic Independence</td>
<td>247</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Radical Relativism</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gadamer’s Relativism versus Apel’s and Habermas’ Critical Psychoanalytic Hermeneutics</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phonocentrism and the Electronic Media</td>
<td>250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Videocentrism as a Variation of Phonocentrism</td>
<td>251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Logocentrism as Already Construction — Not Ground</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Difference and the Constructive Process of Presence (Temporality) as Absence</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Difference (Difference and Defferal)</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Absence Equals Traces of Difference</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Debt to Husserl</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Husserl’s Theory of Signs</td>
<td>257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Expressive Signs and Eidetic Intuition (Universalism)</td>
<td>257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indicative Signs or Indices (Particularism)</td>
<td>259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Critique of Husserl via Internal-Time Consciousness</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Trace and the Structure of Husserlean Retention</td>
<td>261</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Substitution as the Essence of Signification</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Effacement (the &quot;Pastness of Past&quot;)</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Definitions of &quot;Presence&quot; (The Epistemological and the Ontological)</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s SpatIALIZATION of Presence — &quot;Difference Without Origin&quot;</td>
<td>267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Rejection of the Husserlean Third Element — Active Consciousness</td>
<td>268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Derrida’s Rejection of Essentialism and Nominalism</td>
<td>268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Traces of Traces: Representations of Representation — The Infinite Regression</td>
<td>269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Noreconciliatory Dialectics in Adorno and Derrida</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Difference and the Crisis of Interpretation (Structure and Event)</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spacing</td>
<td>272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Critiquing Derrida: The Synthetic Third Element and &quot;Spacing&quot;</td>
<td>273</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Fallacy of Closure</td>
<td>275</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Phonocentric Privileging of Speech</td>
<td>276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Video — Closer to &quot;Truth&quot;</td>
<td>277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supplement and Archi — e’criture</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Geoffrey Hartman: Saving the Text from Endless "Gamesmanship"......361
"Inside"/"Outside": Truth as Representation (the Correspondence Theory).................................................................361
Bloom's Romantic Defense of Subjective Origin (the "Will to Expression").................................................................361
"Misprision" -- "Masterful Troping" -- The Transvaluation of Values..............................................................................363
The Mistakes of the "Purest" Deconstructors, According to Bloom...364
The Failure to Contain Irony and Paradox in the Poem-Object........366
Reversing Oppositions.................................................................367

Summary Conclusion..............................................................................................................................................................367

CHAPTER 8

The Hermeneutic Response

Hans-Georg Gadamer Contra the Psychologyism of Wilhelm Dilthey, Friedrich Schleiermacher, and E. D. Hirsch..................375
The Dissolution of the Hermeneutic "Gap".................................375
Subtilitas Intelligendi and Subtilitas Explicandi..........................376
Historicity.................................................................376
The Split in Hermeneutics Between Belief and Suspicion............379
The "Appropriateness" of an Interpretation Measured in Terms of "Openness" and the Situation.................................380
Gadamer's Notion of das Wirkungsgeschichtliche Bewusstein Contra Naive Objectivism ......................................................381
Understanding is Interpretation..................................................381
Universal Linguisticality versus the Cartesian Gap......................382
D. C. Hoy's Reception Theory..................................................383
Tradition..............................................................................383

Language and World..............................................................................................................................................................385

Paul Ricoeur's Initial Rejection of the Dialogical Model and "Immanent Texts" as the "Ideology of the Absolute Text"............385
The Human "Habitat": Not a Linguistic Prison............................386
Commercials and Their Ontological Force................................387

Authentic Dialogue: Genuine Discourse..................................................390

Docta Ignorantia..........................................................391

Docta Ignorantia: The Socratic Attitude Toward Performed Opinion (doxa).................................................................391
Gadamer and Betti: The Issue of Method....................................392
Authentic Questions................................................................394
Inauthentic Strategic Communication.................................396

Gadamer's Logocentrism.........................................................................................................................................................404
Applicatio, Prudence, Context ............................................................... 408

Applicatio (Application): Rational and Irrational Relativism................. 408

Knowledge and Prejudice ........................................................................ 411

Pre-Understanding/Prejudice .................................................................... 412

Prejudices: Essential to Communication................................................ 413
Blind and Enabling Prejudices ............................................................... 415
Prudence .................................................................................................. 416
Belongingness (Zugehörigkeit) ............................................................... 417
The Fusion of Horizons: The Way to Knowledge ..................................... 418
Authority ............................................................................................... 419
Gadamer's Optimism versus Heidegger's Pessimism ................................. 425

Summary Conclusion ............................................................................... 426

CHAPTER 9

The Linguistic Analysis of Myth

Roland Barthes' Structural Approach ..................................................... 432
All Communication is Mythic ............................................................... 432
The Structure of Myth .......................................................................... 433
The Circular Self-Generative Nature of Ideology ..................................... 435
Mythic Motive ....................................................................................... 436
Myth Hides Nothing: The Communicative "Alibi" .................................. 438
Global Association .................................................................................. 439
The Direction of Intentionality -- Focus: Three Ways to Read a Myth .... 441
Mythic Guidance ................................................................................... 443
Myth in the Service of Ideology ............................................................. 444

Mythic (ic) and Interpretation ................................................................. 448

Myth as "Robbery by Colonization" — Signification as "Parasite" ............ 449
The Stolen Sign or "Speaking Corpse" .................................................... 449
Artificial Myth ....................................................................................... 450
Fourth Order Myth -- Stealing the Unreliable Referent ......................... 451
The Inevitability of Myth ....................................................................... 451
Style as Excessive Dissemination .......................................................... 452
Mythic Justification of Reality — "Pseudo-Physis" as "Fact" .................... 452
A World Without Depth ......................................................................... 452
Deconstructing Barthes and Foregrounding Ethics .................................. 453

Summary Conclusion ............................................................................... 456
CHAPTER 10
Mythic Structure

Jean Gebser and the Consciousness Structures ........................................ 460

Rejection of Eschatological and Teleological Thinking ............................ 460
Mutation ..................................................................................................... 461
Leonardo da Vinci and the Full Emergence of the Perspectival World ......... 461
Gebser Contra Positivism .......................................................................... 462
Myth Here and Now ................................................................................... 463
Mircea Eliade ............................................................................................... 463
History as "Camouflaged" Myth ............................................................... 463
"Aryanism" as Myth on the Political "Right" .............................................. 463
The "Just Man" (Proletarian Hero) Myth of the Political "Left" ................. 464

Roland Barthes and Myth Today ............................................................... 466

Semitic Exchange-Value ........................................................................... 466
The Structure of the alibi ........................................................................... 466
Tony Schwartz: Ads as Irrational Messages ............................................ 467
Myth as "Innocent" Speech ........................................................................ 467
Draining History: The Naturalization of Myth ........................................ 469
Signification as Currency (Linguistic Equivalencies) ................................ 469
The Process of Differentiation ................................................................ 470
Examples of Differentiation and Apposition ............................................ 472
Surveillance and Psychographics ............................................................. 473
Advertising Analysis ................................................................................. 479
Object Correlative ..................................................................................... 483
Advertising "Worlds" ................................................................................ 483
"Marlboro Land" ....................................................................................... 483
Ad-Work .................................................................................................... 485
Anthropomorphism .................................................................................... 486
Totemism .................................................................................................... 487
False Totemism .......................................................................................... 488
Reverse Totemism ..................................................................................... 489
Product as "Generator" ............................................................................... 491
Appellation: The creation of Subject ....................................................... 494
Ideology ...................................................................................................... 494
Louis Althusser and Jacques Lacan's Translation of Freud into Linguistics: Condensation Becomes Metaphor and Displacement Becomes Metonymy ................................................................. 494
Hegemony: Antonio Gramsci's Deep View ............................................. 495
Jacques Ellul and Tony Schwartz: No Need to Lie ................................. 497
Facts as Value-Neutral: The Myth of Objectivity in the Service of Ideology ................................................................. 497
Ads as Non-Genuine Dialogue ................................................................ 498
Value .......................................................................................................... 499
Alreadiness ................................................................................................. 499

Transformational Space: Not a Diacritical Vacuum but a Dialectical Synthesizing/Associating ................................................................. 499
The Subject/Ideology: Paradox of Appellation ............................................ 500
"Interweaving" ......................................................................................... 505

Summary Conclusion .............................................................................. 506

Print ads .................................................................................................... 513-549

CHAPTER 11

The Structure of Consciousness
and the Constitution of Myth

Advertising as Efficient Communication .............................................. 551
Advertising as Meta-System ..................................................................... 551
Fine Techniques for Linking Systems ..................................................... 552
Technique: The "One Best Way" — 3 Types ........................................... 555
Standardization .......................................................................................... 555
The "Cult of Efficiency": A Manifestation of Temporal Anxiety ............ 556
Prerational Consciousness in the Service of Temporal Compression ...... 556
Euhl's Confusion of Conditioned Reflex and Cognitive Response .......... 562
The "Power" of Advertising Reconsidered: M. Schudson's "Implied Viewer"
Argument .................................................................................................. 563
Literal and Metaphorical: A Matter of Degrees ...................................... 565
Advertising: Cooption of Myths ............................................................... 565
Trick -- Not Persuasion ............................................................................ 567

How Advertising Does WHAT it Does .................................................... 568

Apo1 and the Linguistic Constitution of Empirical Data ....................... 569
The Fallacy of Degree Zero Expression .................................................... 571
Creating the Consumer Creating Herself ................................................. 572

Myth and Hermeneutics ........................................................................... 573

The Three Directions of Hermeneutics: R. E. Palmer's, Definition of Hermeneutics ............................................................................................. 575

Jean Gebser's Project and the HOW of Communication (Advertising): A
Deconstructive Reading ............................................................................. 577

Aperspectivity ............................................................................................ 577
Picasso: A Beginning or an Ending? ......................................................... 579
Gebser's Logocentrism: "Presentation" ...................................................... 583
Historicity and Presentation ...................................................................... 583
Gebser Contra Comtean Positivism ......................................................... 584
Gebser's Ambiguity Toward "Evolution" and "Mutation" ......................... 588
"Unfolding" ............................................................................................... 588
The Issue of Volition and Freedom (Authenticity) ................................... 589
The Danger of the "Deficient" Gloom ....................................................... 591
The Call to Authentic Communication: Dialogical Light ....................... 591
Pushing Out the "Clean Well Lit" Space, The Horizon of Language/World:
The Pragmatics of Emerging From Plato's Cave ..................................... 592
The Limitation to Total Illumination/Aperspectivity..........................593
Heidegger and Care.................................................................594
Clarity About the Role of Will, Volition, and Resolve.......................595
Summary Conclusion.....................................................................599

CHAPTER 12

Applying the Remaining Gems of Gebser’s Thought

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Topic</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Myth and Magic: Ever-Present</td>
<td>603</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Supplementation of &quot;The Deficient&quot;</td>
<td>604</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Electronic Mass Media as a Cross-Section Through the Structures</td>
<td>606</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gebser’s Situatedness as Perspective-Centric</td>
<td>607</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guilt About Time</td>
<td>607</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Perspectival Condition</td>
<td>608</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hypertrophy and Blindness</td>
<td>608</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Expansion and Over Determination of the &quot;Ego Sphere&quot;</td>
<td>610</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Universal Intolerance,&quot; or Newtonian Subjects as Objects Including Thoughtless Equal and Opposite Reacting: Totalitarian Structuralism and the Surrender of Consciousness/Prudence</td>
<td>611</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gebser and McLuhan</td>
<td>612</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Striking Agreement between McLuhan and Gebser</td>
<td>612</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ear and the Depth of Entangled, Dark, Mythic, Unidimensional Being</td>
<td>613</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gebser as a Sophisticating Complement to McLuhan</td>
<td>614</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McLuhan’s Clumsy Critique of Individualism</td>
<td>616</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television as a Technology: Highly Perspectival</td>
<td>617</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television Contents: Highly Mythic and Magic</td>
<td>618</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Unperspectival Magic Condition</td>
<td>619</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Misplaced Newtonian Interpretation</td>
<td>619</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Associative Equivalences: Spaceless, Timeless</td>
<td>620</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unitary Being</td>
<td>621</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dream Work, Advertising Work</td>
<td>625</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Associative Imagery: A Dangerous Retrogression</td>
<td>631</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Detachment&quot;</td>
<td>632</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gebser and Commercial Magic</td>
<td>634</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gebser’s Warning about Unconscious Structures: Determinism</td>
<td>636</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Unperspectival Magic Condition</td>
<td>637</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Section</td>
<td>Page</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
<td>------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television Commercial: &quot;Super-Icon&quot;</td>
<td>637</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Five Characteristics of Magic Man</td>
<td>638</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Will-Power-Drive&quot;</td>
<td>639</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schwartz's Analysis of the Auditory Mode of Advertising</td>
<td>641</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Relapse&quot; into Tribalism</td>
<td>642</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mnemonic Speech</td>
<td>644</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Power of Rhythmically Designed and Mass Mediated Repetition</td>
<td>648</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Doing Without Knowing&quot;</td>
<td>651</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Contemporary Man's Obsession With Time</td>
<td>653</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Resonance&quot; and &quot;Mass Attunement&quot;</td>
<td>654</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The &quot;Vital&quot; and &quot;Causal&quot; Next</td>
<td>655</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Pre-Perspectival Mythic Condition</td>
<td>657</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Presence of &quot;Exhausted Residua&quot;</td>
<td>657</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summary Conclusion</td>
<td>659</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BIBLIOGRAPHY</td>
<td>667</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

APPENDICES

Appendix A
Dasein and Truth (Heidegger's "Definition" of Truth).......................... 748

Appendix B
Wittgenstein on Arbitrariness............................................................ 770

Appendix C
Parsons and Levi-Strauss......................................................................... 782

Appendix D
Parsonian Humanism (The Active Agent).................................................. 785

Appendix E
Derrida's Critique of J. L. Austin......................................................... 788

Appendix F
Merleau-Ponty: The Greatest "Structuralist" or the First "Post-Structuralist".. 792

Appendix G
Jakobson's Theory of Foregrounding......................................................... 822

Appendix H
Adorno as Proto-Deconstructor................................................................... 824

Appendix I
Roland Barthes: Canny Methodologist or Uncanny Post-Structuralist............ 826
Appendix J
Television and Children’s Cognitive and Attitudinal Responses

Appendix K
Husserl and the Frankfurt School

Appendix L
The Issue of Writing and Reason: The Example of Philosophy

Appendix M
Recall and Learning

Appendix N
Youth and Distrust

Appendix O
Advertising and Entry Barrier

Appendix P
Commercial Content and Gender Portrayal

Appendix Q
Althusser’s Notion of Appellation (Creating the Subject)

Appendix R
Science as a Responsible Vocation: The Value-Judgement Controversy

Appendix S
The “Very Present Danger of Technocracy”

Appendix T
Linguistic Structuralism and Reductionism

Appendix U (abstract)

TABLE OF DIAGRAMS

De Saussure’s Tree Diagram

De Saussure’s and Peirce’s Linguistic Designations Compared

Paradigmatic Choice

Associative and Metaphoric Transposition

Metaphoric and Metonymic Axes

Jakobson’s Communicative Event

Sign and Myth
Demythicized Speech: Artificial Myth.................................451
Product Positioning and the Structure of Ads......................481, 482
Paradigmatic and Syntagmatic Axes.....................................485
Print Advertising...........................................................513-549
Semiotic Diagram of Advertising........................................566
The Robertson and Rossiter Effects Flow Diagram..................837